

Why Young People Participate in Interact

Empowering youth through leadership, service, and global connections.

Through Interact, young people experience the power of service, discover new cultures, and promote international understanding while developing leadership skills and making new friends.

WITH THE SUPPORT OF SPONSOR CLUBS AND COMMITTED ADVISERS, INTERACT MEMBERS:

Develop Leaders

Interactors shape their clubs, planning and implementing everything from service projects to leadership development programs to social activities. Interactors can tailor their clubs to members' interests and community needs. In the process, they develop lifelong leadership skills.

Instill a Commitment to Service

In choosing, planning, implementing, and reflecting on their service projects, Interactors learn about service and the enormous impact that Rotary members and other volunteers can make. Their service can create real and lasting change.

Cultivate Global Awareness

When they join an Interact club, young people become part of the global community, connecting with other young leaders from around the world, gaining a deeper understanding of international events, and forging new friendships.
